

STUDERMAIER
acquaintances, especially since -- arrested because of a denunciation by one KUHPPERS OF KNOE

9. At present, STUDERMAIER has new visas for Italy, Syria, Egypt and other points, and he plans a Near East trip in February or March 1951. It is urgent he go, he claims, to iron out details on a big contract for tractors for the Syrian government. Terrumar (which used to be called Braemborg) is doing a good business in Syria, Lebanon, Iran and Egypt. Terrumar's export sales are in generators, tractors, threshing combines, artificial fertilizers and cement. Import items are largely in textiles and foods, sometimes tobacco and good bargains like used automobile tires.

10. In connection with STUDERMAIER's forthcoming trip to the Near East we asked him to make a survey of intelligence possibilities in that area, especially of CK possibilities in Egypt (of MOK-W-483). In view of his own notoriety, and in order not to risk his own new and flourishing business career, we asked him to consider this problem in terms of his own direct participation, or without his playing a role in such activities. STUDERMAIER furnished us a memorandum on the topic shortly after he returns from his trip.

11. With an anticipatory glint in his eye, STUDERMAIER already had two friends in mind who could assist in such an enterprise. One of them lives in Munich, but is anxious to get to the Near East or Africa, and STUDERMAIER could thus give him a berth. This man is a Dr. BEISSNER. (MOK Comment: see ZIPPER, and note our MGL-A-4591. The BEISSNER must be identical. STUDERMAIER admitted that his BEISSNER had been in Italy during the War with SS-Obergruppenfuehrer WOLFP. We will discreetly check with ZIPPER the possible French IS connections of BEISSNER.)
